If you would like to receive information about subsequent meeting locations or to be added to the special needs email list, please write to kimlesak@aol.com

It is the intent of our group to provide an informal setting where parents can:

- Meet others dealing with the unique challenges encountered with a special needs child.
- Discuss the difficulties, frustrations, and rewards of raising a child with special needs.
- Share experience and practical advice.
- Network with others to collect information on other forms of assistance; such as doctors, specialists, tutors, and programs.

Raising a child with special needs can often be isolating. We hope to form a community where everyone feels welcome, unencumbered, and emotionally supported. The personal problems and concerns of support group members will remain private and confidential. Please contact Kim at kimlesak@aol.com with any questions or comments.
